DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's election of Group I in Paper No. 17 is acknowledged. Groups I and II are classified in different classes and the search is different for the two groups.

Therefore, the requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Claim Objections

2. Claims 34-36 are objected to because of the following informalities:

In claim 34, line 1, it seems that "writs" should be --writes--. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

4. Claims 27-32, 34, and 35 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Pannekoek (4,748,464).

Pannekoek teaches a printing device comprising a head 10 being a first rotary drum placed in a position so that the head forms an electric field towards an electronic paper, a plurality of pixels 2,4 on the head, each pixel independently forming an electric field, a plurality of first electrodes 2,4 each corresponding to a respective pixel, a second electrode 12 being a second rotary drum and opposing the first drum, and a mechanism for rotating at least one of the first rotary drum and the second rotary in a direction opposite to the direction that the other drum rotates.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 1-5, 8, 9, 11, 13-16, 37-40, and 42-44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Vincent (5,866,284) in view of Pannekoek.

Vincent teaches a printing system comprising a plurality of capsules 100 that are caused to move by applying an electric field, a drum-shaped head 210 having a curved shape with a surface for holding an electric charge, a pair of drums 210,250, another drum having on an outer circumferential surface a common electrode that form an electric field together with said surface of the drum-shaped head, and an erasing head 230.

With respect to claims 37-40, Vincent teaches a first drum head 230 that forms an electric field for resetting a pre-written pattern, a second drum head 210 that writes a pattern.

Vincent does not teach a drum-shaped head having on an outer circumferential surface a plurality of pixels in a matrix that form electric fields, the first and second heads comprising a plurality of electrodes, and each of the electrodes corresponding to a respective pixel.

Pannekoek teaches a drum-shaped head 10 having on an outer circumferential surface a plurality of pixels 2,4 in a matrix that form electric fields, a plurality of electrodes 2,4, and each of the electrodes corresponding to a respective pixel.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify Vincent to have the pixel electrodes on the outer circumference of the drum as taught by Pannekoek, in order to more accurately control the images areas, since the electric field on a particular point on the drum can be changed up until the moment right before that point touches the paper. In the Vincent device the field can not be changed on a particular point once that point passes the corona charger.

7. Claims 6, 7, 17, 18, and 41 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Vincent in view of Pannekoek as applied to claims 1-5, 8, 9, 11, 13-16, 37-40, and 42-44 above, and further in view of Haas et al. (6,100,909).

Vincent in view of Pannekoek teach the claimed invention except for the plurality of switching elements.

Haas teaches an electronic paper printer comprising a plurality of switching elements.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify Vincent in view of Pannekoek to have the plurality of switching elements as taught by Haas, in order to accurately control the image forming process.

Art Unit: 2854

8. Claims 33 and 36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Pannekoek in view of Haas et al. (6,100,909).

Pannekoek teaches the claimed invention except for the plurality of switching elements.

Haas teaches an electronic paper printer comprising a plurality of switching elements.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify Pannekoek to have the plurality of switching elements as taught by Haas, in order to accurately control the image forming process.

Response to Arguments

9. Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims of record have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
